

Janel Gauthier Ph.D. Prof.
Member.

Dr. Janel Gauthier is Professor Emeritus of Psychology at Laval University, Canada. He also is President of the International Association of Applied Psychology (IAAP) and a past-president of the Canadian Psychological Association.

He was the Chair of the Ad Hoc Joint Committee that developed the Universal Declaration of Ethical Principles for Psychologists (2008) under the auspices of the International Union of Psychological Science and the International Association of Applied Psychology.

His contributions to international psychological ethics have been recognized through a number of national and international awards. He has authored/co-authored articles and book chapters on both ethics and human rights.

April 2018

