IAAP TASK FORCE ON TERRORISM AND PEACE BUILDING ACTIVITIES November, 2019

We have been updating our website!

We also are using Twitter as a place to post news and information about our work. Please take a look (or even better, please follow us!): @IAAP\_Terrorism

Seminar project: We are organizing weekly seminars for students. This is a great opportunity for students to learn current scientific perspectives and findings. If you are interested in participating in the seminar project, please contact tfterrorism@iaap.es

Are you interested in conducting research to understand terrorism; working to help victims recover; developing peace-building strategies; or in other challenges related to countering terrorism and building peace? If so, we would like to hear from you! To find out more about opportunities to collaborate or join our task force, please e-mail tfterrorism@iaap.es

Our Task Force collaborators have been very busy: John Guilaran finished his Ph.D. in Psychology at Massey University in Wellington, New Zealand. His thesis topic was “The effects of received social support on posttraumatic stress symptoms and social adjustment of New Zealand and Philippine emergency responders.” He now is an Assistant Professor at the Division of Social Sciences, College of Arts and Sciences at the University of the Philippines Visayas in Iloilo, Philippines.

In August, another task force collaborator, Cynthia Meyersburg, co-presented with her colleague Christopher Kim, on Trends in International and U.S. Domestic Terrorism at the annual convention for the (U.S.) National Asian Peace Officers Association in Boston, MA.
