

Work and Organizational Psychology (WOP) Around the World Project

What Are the Top Organization Challenges in Your Country?

Do you ever wonder how similar - or different - the issues your country is facing are to those of other countries? As your IAAP – Division 1 Executive Committee, our goal is to help facilitate interaction and communication among applied WOP psychologists around the world. One way to do this is to create a visible world map of the current challenges facing our profession around the world.

You can help us build this map by taking a short survey. We invite you to tell us which academic and professional organizations are advancing WOP psychology in your country. In addition, please give us your opinions about the current issues facing our profession in your country and offer ideas for future research and practice.

The Keyword Search Project. In addition to the survey, the WOP Around the World Project is reviewing applied psychology journals to search the most popular WOP keywords today. This will advance our understanding of WOP issues around the world by examining the research of Work and Organizational Psychologists.

Look for updates of the project in future IAAP – Division 1 newsletters!
