

Paid Practices with people in risk of social exclusion. Chicago - USA

“We are looking for people interested in getting professional practice working with people in risk of social exclusion in Chicago, USA. We need psychologist who can speak fluent Spanish. The selected person will collaborate on a 40-hour a week work-based program, and will receive 1.600$ per month for housing, food, local commuting, insurance... He/she will spend the first three months with a host family, who will provide the food and house (for those first three months, the monthly payment will thus be 600$). Program could potentially last up to 18 months.

For more information, don't hesitate in contacting our Ambassador Paula Cañete (paulacanete@gmail.com), who will provide you with further details about this fantastic opportunity!